15 Hurt in Sewer Blast At Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 16 (AP).—Fifteen persons were hurt, one probably fatally, in consequence of a series of explosions and fires originating in a sewer in Water street, between Main and Second streets, here today.

Two men and two women, employees at the book store of William S. Greene, were missing an hour after the blast, and firemen were searching the ruins of the building on the belief that they had been buried in the wreckage.

Four stores burst into flame immediately after the explosion. They were those of the Lawson Hardware Co., Krege's Five and Ten Cent Store, Greene's book store, and the ladies' furnishing store of Moe Myers.

Groups of buildings were blown out, and the streets in the vicinity of the blast were strewn with wreckage.

Today's explosion is believed to have originated from the same cause that resulted in a similar explosion on August 24, 1928. At that time an abnormally high tide in the Hudson backed the water up in the sewer mains and gasoline fumes were ignited by a spark.

William S. Greene, proprietor of the book store that was destroyed, was removed to a hospital in a dying condition.

Logan Robinson, a tailor, was blown through the side of his shop and injured seriously.

Fire apparatus from Beacon, Cornwall and Marlborough assisted the local department in fighting the blaze, and National Guardsmen were called out to help police in the fire area.

Sunday morning the murdered woman's six year old son discovered his mother strangled to death in the apartment. There was a stout twine about her neck and police believe she was murdered by an unwelcome suitor of whom she had complained to the police.

Sergeant Lockhart received word of the murder and was given a complete description of the man who is suspected of the crime. At the Sunnyside Farm of Veto Motel, two miles west of Marlborough, Lockhart and Trooper Baker came on a man who answered the description. He and a number of Italian residents were engaged in a game about a large table. Barbera was held on suspicion and turned over to New York detectives who took the man back to New York city.

The description sent out from New York headquarters tallied with the man arrested, even to a signet ring on his finger.

According to Mr. Currie's report of the accident to the police he was driving along Abel street and near the Dwyer sand bank his car was crowded off to the shoulder of the road to avoid being struck by two cars approaching from opposite direction. ## 16 Killed In New Outbreak

Jerusalem, Sept. 16 (AP).—News of a new outbreak at Hattin, near the Sea of Galilee, in which raiding Bedouin tribesmen lost 16 men killed and numbers wounded before being dispersed by British military patrols, again disturbed the peaceful atmosphere of Palestine today. No trouble between Jews and Arabs had been reported for a week.

It was hoped the incident was purely local. No fears were entertained that the affair will in any way affect the proposed visit of 200 prominent Egyptian Arabs to Palestine for the purpose of bringing about a reconciliation of the two peoples.

Reports to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency state there is growing feeling among Egyptian Arabs that the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, recognized Moslem leader, is partly responsible for the recent troubles in the country. Dissatisfaction with him is said to be partly due to his alleged failure to fully account for funds raised in Egypt for repairing the mosque of Omar.

Generally, conditions seem to be rapidly approaching normal in Palestine. Yesterday Allenby road to Tel Aviv was crowded with the usual week-end promenade like the days before the riots. All the way to the sea there were holiday crowds and bathers swarmed the beach.

Motorist Fired At Three Times

Saturday night while Leland Kelly, employed on the Galli-Curci estate at Highmount, was driving along the road someone fired three shots from the roadside. One shot struck the windshield of Kelly's car, a second punctured the tire when he drove to the side of the road and dropped to the floor of the car to escape further shots and a third struck him in the right ankle. The bullet, steel jacketed, from a high-power rifle, passed through the foot.

All three shots were fired from thick brush by the roadside and Kelly was unable to see anyone.

Kelly drove later to a nearby hotel and notified the sheriff's office and State Troopers. Deputy Sheriff Joseph Possner of Pine Hill and Sergeant James Cunningham made an investigation but were unable to locate anyone who might be suspected of the crime. The investigation is being conducted on the theory that the person who did the shooting believed he was shooting at a game warden. Illegal hunting cases in the vicinity have caused the game warden to become active in the locality.

WILL ASK LEGISLATURE TO TAKE ACTION ON WATER POWER

New York, Sept. 16 (AP).—Governor Roosevelt declared in a statement published today that he would ask the legislature to create state machinery to undertake the development of the St. Lawrence River waterpower. Describing the sale of the properties of the Frontier Corporation to the Morgan-owned Niagara-Hudson Power Corporation as merely a transfer of ownership from "one friend to another," he said the deal did not change the legal status of St. Lawrence waterpower.

He said the concentration of ownership of hydro-electric companies into one private ownership covering 80 per cent of the area of the state made State development of St. Lawrence power increasingly imperative.

Federation Executive Meeting.

Drouth Dried Many Streams

Planting of Fish Will Be Delayed—Catskill Region Suffered Most From the Dry Weather.

Albany, Sept. 16. The effects of this summer's unusual drouth upon angling are likely to be felt in some localities for some time to come. Many streams for which applications had been made for fish for stocking purposes were so completely dried up that plant and insect life which are necessary to maintain a sufficient supply of food for fish, entirely disappeared. In cases where this had occurred the streams cannot be successfully restocked until this plant and insect life has been restored. To stock streams where there is no food for the fish would simply result in wasting the fish.

The section which suffered most from the dry weather was the Catskill region. The Conservation Department's field station at Summitville is full of trout that cannot be planted until conditions in that locality are greatly improved.

Many applications for fish to be planted in the northern part of Dutchess county were cancelled because of the low condition of the streams. The same was true in Rensselaer and Washington counties where in many localities the streams contained only stagnant pools.

In several counties, notably Rensselaer thousands of fish were removed from feeder streams into larger streams by game protectors. Protectors in Inspector Johnston's district successfully transferred about 30,000 trout.

In the Adirondack section the streams were not seriously affected but in the Catskill region the planting of fish has already been delayed about six weeks and in the case of streams where the vegetable and insect life had been entirely destroyed will of necessity be deferred until at least another season.

In the cases of streams that have suffered the most seriously Conservation Commissioner Alexander Macdonald is planning to pay particular attention to stocking as soon as conditions will permit with a view to bringing them back to their normal condition.

WILL KINGSTON HAVE A SEARS, ROEBUCK STORE?

With work progressing on the Montgomery Ward & Company building on Fair street, interest in whether Sears, Roebuck & Company will locate in town grows. Some time ago Sears, Roebuck & Company announced that they had selected Kingston as a site for a retail store. However, the man who was to erect the building and lease it to the mail order firm never closed with the owner of the property or any contractor for the work. Now there is again activity in the matter. The Leverett property on North Front street, which was announced as the site for Sears, Roebuck & Company, has never been taken over by the party who was to construct the building but new activities may result in a second chain store establishing a retail branch in town. That Sears, Roebuck & Company desire to open a store in Kingston was indicated by their announcement made some time ago and this desire evidently remains with the firm.

On October 10, Mr. MacDonald will go to New York, where he will remain until the morning of the 14th when he will go to Buffalo. It is said he had expressed a desire to see the American side of Niagara Falls.

On the 15th he will cross to Toronto, where it is thought he may meet Premier Mackenzie King of Canada. On the following night he will go to Ottawa and may remain with the Canadian Prime Minister for three days.

The British Prime Minister later will go to Montreal and Quebec, from where he will sail for home aboard the Steamship Duchess of York on October 25.

These plans represent an extension of three days over the time which had originally been intended. Consequently he will not be back in London in time for the assembling of Parliament on October 29, but will be present the following Monday.

Two Robberies Reported Here

Residence of Jacob Ballson on Chambers Street and House of John Prussack on Meadow Street, Burglarized Saturday Night.

The police department is investigating two robberies that were reported on Sunday morning. Jacob Ballson of 24 Chambers street, was awakened some time Saturday night by a noise in the house and got up to investigate and found a negro, about 5 feet 7 inches tall, in the room. The negro held Ballson approaching and ran out of the house through the front door. With him went a gray suit of clothes and $34 in money. The suit of clothes was later found in Ballson's backyard where the thief had evidently dropped them.

Entrance to the home of John Prussack of 44 Meadow street, was obtained by removing a screen from a window. An Elgin watch, some jewelry and $12 in money that was in Prussack's pants pocket were taken. The theft was not discovered until Sunday morning when Mr. Prussack awoke.

Fire Truck of Central Station Damaged 4 Cars

While Responding to a Still Alarm of Fire Saturday Night, the Big Pumper Struck Obstruction in Street and Crashed Into Parked Cars.

Saturday night while responding to a still alarm of fire the big pumper from the Central Fire Station, driven by Fireman Edward Naylor, struck a depression in the street at Broadway and St. James street, which broke one of the springs of the fire apparatus, causing the driver to lose control and crash into the parked Pontiac coach of Fred H. Jones of Scotia, N. Y., which was parked at the curb in front of 764 Broadway.

The Pontiac car was badly damaged and was driven forward by the force of the impact, crashing into the parked Pontiac sedan of Jay Vandervlyn, which in turn crashed into Vandervlyn's parked two truck, which collided with the parked Buick roadster of Aldrich and Scheffel. All four machines were parked at the curb one in front of the other.

As the big pumper struck the depression, caused by excavating work in the street, Fireman Noble did all that was possible to get the apparatus back under control. He narrowly avoided hitting the traffic standard on the corner and a telegraph pole near the Flower Shop, but could not avoid crashing into Jones's parked car, which was badly damaged.

The three other machines were not so badly damaged. The rear end, radiator and bumper of Vandervlyn's sedan; the radiator and bumper on the truck and the rear end and bumper of the Buick car were damaged. The pumper sustained some broken parts but it was expected that repairs could be made shortly and the fire apparatus ready for service again within a few days.

The pumper was responding to a still alarm for a fire in the Ulster County Savings Institution on Wall street. The call for the fire department was caused by smoke coming from the cellar of the bank which was caused by burning some papers in the heating plant.

FREAKISH MISHAPS LISTED IN SURVEY

Odd Accidents on Which Claims Are Based.

New York—"Accidents" bridge to mind automobiles, grade crossings, airplanes, explosions, or high-speed machinery. But a recent survey of the injuries listed in claims under workmen's compensation insurance reveals that even the decorative daffodil, a timorous mouse, or the wind at the Battery wall may cause an accident that means months in a hospital for the victim. The survey proves that personal carelessness is the best safety guard.

A Long Island man took a job in a greenhouse because he liked flowers. He was interested especially in caring for a bed of Callodora. But he was not sufficiently versed in horticulture to know that beneath the yellow brilliance the plants hid a subtle poison. One day an abrasion on his ankle became infected. For the next few months he lay in a hospital ward, and was lucky to escape having his foot amputated.

Oddly acquired injuries come to light frequently through the claims work of the New York state insurance fund, which is the largest carrier of compensation insurance in the state. A perusal of the claim files at the home office of the state fund discloses hidden perils in the most innocent looking circumstances.

Some Claims Found False. A few of the claims out of the thousands handled every year by the state fund owe much of their oddity to the claimants' vivid imagination, but a little investigation and scientific medical examination quickly stamp these as unjustified. Nevertheless, as every claim is investigated, the truth of scores of unusual accidents actually is established and proper claims of the victims promptly paid.

A Palisades Interstate Park guard picked up bits of paper that marred the park's beauty. One large piece had been selected as a shelter by a copperhead snake. The snake bit the guard's hand. An automobile quickly brought the victim to a physician and snake serum saved the man's life.

An elderly man engaged to run errands could not cope with a strong wind at the Battery. He was blown against a railing and his leg severely injured.

Danger lurks even in the current fashion. A girl forgot she had placed a needle in the hem of her skirt. Her leg struck against a table. The needle was driven into her leg.

A man who tried to catch a pencil that fell from behind his ear was incapacitated for a week. The point stabbed his palm.

Spider Bites Plumber. A spider in the cellar bit a plumber.

A machine at which a girl was working broke with a crash that sounded like an explosion. The girl's facial muscles became paralyzed from fright.

A school principal handed a diploma to a girl graduate. With it he presented a bouquet of roses a relative had sent. A thorn pricked his finger, and blood poisoning developed. He was incapacitated for several months and the courts awarded compensation, holding that the injury was received in the course of his employment.

One man lost an eye when a pheasant flew against the windshield of his automobile and broke the glass.

A bookkeeper turned his head suddenly, and a pen in his hand pierced his nose. Infection developed that brought on a fatal brain abscess.

Frank of Boys Starts

Watermelon Stampede

Enterprise, Ore.—The watermelon market here suffered a bearish attack recently when a boy's prank caused a stampede in the trade. Stocks were closed out at one cent a pound a couple of hours after the market had opened at 3 1/2 cents.

The 3 1/2 cent mark looked high to a group of boys and one crossed the half cent from the huge sign in one grocery store.

Noticing the act, a competitor promptly put out a large window sign setting the price at 2 1/2 cents, and a few minutes see-sawing brought it down to 1 cent, at which the supply moved rapidly.

Coal Has New Use;

to Produce Alcohol

Washington—A new source of alcohol supply—of interest to bootleggers as well as to industrialists—was disclosed recently in the announcement that a way has been found to produce ordinary, straight-grain alcohol from coal and petroleum products. A subsidiary of Union Carbide company, at South Charleston, W. Va., has produced 40,000 gallons to all intents the same as alcohol ordinarily produced from grains and fruits, according to Prohibition Administrator J. M. Doran.

Believe This One and

You'll Believe Anything

Red Bluff, Calif.—A rattlesnake here bit its own tail and within three minutes died from the bite. That is, if you believe Wes Holt, alleged eyewitness of the reptilian suicide. Wes says he found the snake in a dried water hole and placed its tail to the ground with a stick.

Disconcerted by such treatment, the rattler sought revenge on the stick with his poisonous fangs, missed the stick and bit his tail.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—Compilations made by the Spectator, a trade publication, show that Pierre S. duPont leads in amount of life insurance. He has $7,000,000. Ten Americans have policies for $5,000,000 or more, 312 for $1,000,000 or more. John D. Barrymore leads his profession with $2,000,000. Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford and Constance Talmadge have $1,000,000 each.

Boston—Jack Sharkey, fighter, is progressing toward his goal of $1,000,000. Some folks say he has made $750,000 in the ring already and hopes to add $200,000 in the coming season.

New York—College professors, especially those who reside in small communities, tend to live longer than most men. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has so concluded from a study of the lives of 358 professors now dead. Their salaries averaged $2,700 a year.

Osmung, N. Y.—The state is doing its utmost to save a life in order to end it. Frank Pala, under sentence of electrocution for murder, has been operated on at Sing Sing for appendicitis.

Banbury, England—Miss Varney Hancock Cashmore, 26, a barmaid, has realized in part what has long been her ambition. She has wished to be a preacher. She occupied the pulpit of the Banbury Unitarian Church in the absence of the pastor.

New York—Irene Bordoni, actress, has decided that marriage for a woman with a career is impossible. The trouble between her and Ray Goertz, her husband, who is suing for divorce, she insists, was due largely to the fact that people referred to him as "Mr. Bordoni."

Belgrade—Gems and securities valued at $9,000,000 taken to the Crimea by a St. Petersburg bank at the time of the revolution in Russia are in a bank here. Two groups of Russian emigres are seeking possession.

New York—Samuel Goldwyn, motion picture producer, is planning a yearly award for the best motion picture from original material, similar to the Pulitzer award for drama.

New York—In order to learn really how to make up, girls go east. Lady Hay of the Graf Zeppelin, whose eyes especially have been much admired, says she has learned a lot of beauty secrets from women of oriental harems.

The New Series PACKARD EIGHTS

outstandingly more advanced, more beautiful, more luxurious than ever before

Entire Fine Car Range Is Included

These three Packard Eight lines completely cover the fine car field—and dominate it! There is a Packard Eight available at the lowest price for which a truly fine car can be sold. And there are Packard Eights on up to the most luxurious individual custom creations obtainable anywhere in the world.

No Convenience or Comfort Has Been Forgotten

When you inspect the new Packard Eight you will agree that nothing that can be provided for the comfort, the convenience and the enjoyment of owners has been omitted. It is literally true that Packard engineers and designers can think of no way in which the new series cars can be made either better or more beautiful.

Packard cars have always been noted for their fine engineering and supreme craftsmanship, their superb performance, and long life, their comfort, beauty and distinction. In the new series cars Packard has surpassed every previous Packard achievement in these fields and has also given even greater attention to refinement and details of appointments—to incidental comforts and conveniences.

Women drivers, particularly, will appreciate the new arrangement of the sun visors, the adjustable driver's seat and steering gear, the newly perfected shutter-proof glass, the dashboard lockers and the new beauty of fixtures and upholstery. While to men the improved power plant with its new four-speed transmission and still further refined Packard straight-eight engine is sure to appeal.

Today's Packard Eights include those tried and proven engineering improvements, those refinements of detail, those conveniences and luxuries which the world normally expects in cars bearing the Packard name.

Come in and see these new masterpieces—ride in them, drive them yourself. And then tell us, if you can, what could be done to meet more completely your ideal of what a truly fine car ought to be.

Rehearsal for Kiwanis Kapers

This evening at 7 o'clock at the Kiwanis Club, Broadway and Henry street, the first rehearsal of the Kiwanis Kapers will be held. At that time Mr. Adams, who will have the staging of the show in charge, will explain matters pertaining to the show and there will be try-outs for those who desire to take part.

There has been a very generous response to the appeal of Paul Zacca, chairman of the talent committee, for talent and some exceptionally good numbers are anticipated. As in past years the Kiwanis Kapers will be held at the Broadway Theatre on September 27 and 28.

Complicated Relations

The marriage of a young man to his grandmother is reported from Zolite, Holland. In a second marriage a man married a girl of twenty whose mother was forty-five. By his first marriage this man had a son, and this son fell in love with and married the mother of his father's second wife. The son thus not only becomes the husband of his step-grandmother, but also stepfather to his own father.

The excavation work for the basement of the Montgomery Ward Co., new store on the site of the former Ulster Garage, Fair street, is being watched daily with interest by quite a number who lean on the protection fence while the steam shovel and the concrete mixers are working. Bruyn residence, the Henry Kelder livery and other buildings there fifty years or more ago can be heard reminiscing and relating incidents and events that come back to their memory.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Pretty Frock for a Little Miss.

6209. Deep yoke portions shaped in a point at the centre front are joined to plaited skirt portions in this pleasing model. Printed dimity was used to make the little frock; the collar and cuffs are of plain dimity. This is also a good style for pongee, rep, or linen. Green or yellow linen could be piped with white. If made of rep or pongee the collar and cuffs could be of figured material or finished with stitching.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. To make the dress for a 6 year size as illustrated will require 2 1/4 yards of 27 inch material together with 1/4 yard of contrasting material for facing on collar and cuffs.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Baboon Formidable Foe

When Incited to Fury.

At night the South African baboon is a timorous creature, and as its sight, in the dusk is far inferior to that of the leopard, the latter sometimes steals up to where the troop is sleeping, makes its pounce, and escapes with a shrieking victim. But the leopard does not invariably have the best of it. There are several well-authenticated instances of such a night marauder being surrounded and torn to pieces. Another enemy much dreaded by baboons inhabiting the warmer localities is the rock-pyhton. But there are instances of even the python being destroyed by the combined fury of a troop. All snakes, whether poisonous or not, are equally feared by baboons. This is somewhat strange in view of the circumstances that the latter can at once distinguish between berries that are wholesome and those that are poisonous, even though they may never have seen them before. The hiss of a snake will reduce the most enraged baboon to a state of abject terror, and a dead snake placed in the vicinity of one will drive it almost distracted.

"Spoiled" Child Handicapped

Many parents feel that the first few years of a child's life are an important twilight before the real dawn of personality and utterly ignore the importance of those early years for development, observes Clara Bassett in Hygeia Magazine.

Careful study of the spoiled child problem shows that such children do not outgrow their early habits, as parents often think they will. Many of them go through life with these attitudes and then develop mental and nervous breakdowns when they find they are not equipped to meet bravely the vicissitudes and responsibilities of adult existence.

How Invention

A small boy had watched a telephone repairman climb a pole, connect a line and try to obtain connection with the telephone. There was some trouble obtaining the connection. The youngster turned a few minutes and rushed into the house, exclaiming, "Mamma, come out here quick. There's a man up a telephone pole talking to heaven."

"What makes you think he is talking to heaven?"

"'Cause he bellowed 'Hello! hello! hello! good lord, what's the matter up there; can't anyone hear?'"—Forbes Magazine.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at the church on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, following which the sacrament will be taken to the sick of the parish. The rector asks for the names of those who are sick not already known to him.

Actors in Berlin

Finding Other Jobs

Berlin—They say the poor actor in a year like this. There are 1,200 out of work here and the government employment offices and many private firms are begging themselves finding odd jobs for the stage folk.

One large Berlin department store had added ten of them to its sales staff in the past few weeks, while another has made room for four actresses until they can find engagements in their regular profession. Many other concerns have taken on some of the jobless historians as stenographers, secretaries, floor-walkers, room clerks and door-men. Quite by accident a fairly well known player hired out as a stone mason and soon found that he was making so much money in that line that it would be unprofitable for him to return to the footlights.

Railroaders Strong in

Use of Colorful Terms

A brakeman is telling a story of the rails:

"Before we leave I take a run up to the calliope to match watches with the hoghead and find a student tallow pot in the cab, taking orders from the bakehead and spadin' diamonds with his feet together."

Substitute locomotive for "calliope," engineer for "hoghead," apprentice fireman for "student tallow pot," fireman for "bakehead," coal for "diamonds" and it all becomes quite intelligible, says the Bookman. The railroad man has not one but several colorful terms for the men and things that enter into his day's work.

The locomotive is still "the hog," from the wood burning days when its gluttonous appetite kept a fireman constantly on his toes, but it is also the "calliope" and the "holer." A switch engine, which butts cars about the yards, is the "goat." The engineer is "hoghead," "hogger" and "swell head." The fireman is "bakehead."

A "snake" is a yard switchman and a "stinger" is a brakeman, while the yardmaster answers to "dinger." A "drag" is a slow freight and the caboose, reasonably enough, is the "crummy."

Passion for Education

Mark of Truly Great

In a biography of George Washington it is narrated that he was reluctant to visit France at the end of his presidential term, because he could not speak French.

Which is only another tribute to his greatness and his wisdom. What wise man does not regret the lack of education? There is so much to learn in life and so brief a time in which to learn it! To grasp the life and literature of those ancient lands from which our civilization and all our religions are derived would require a couple of centuries at least. And then we would only be in the A B C class of modern study.

The more one really learns, the more one wants to learn. All who have tasted of education must regret their lack of complete possession of it.

Desert Conditions Common

Deserts, in the sense of great areas that are at all times hot, dry and nearly devoid of life, are comparatively rare. But desert conditions, in the sense of high temperatures and shortage of water arise at times on almost all land areas. Seasonal deserts, areas that for a part of the year have an abundant water supply accompanied by a luxuriant vegetable growth, and through the remainder of the year have no water supply and can show only dry masses of dead leaves and stems, are common. Illustrations of such conditions may be found along any roadside in midsummer. They are very common in places where there is but a thin layer of soil over bed

Velvet and Satin on Fashion Card

Brown, Yellow, Blue, Among Colors That Are Used in Combinations.

Velvet will be fashionable, but satin is being used by prominent houses to an extent that prophesies almost a satin season, says a fashion writer in the New York Times. Dotted transparent velvet is used with dainty effect in some afternoon gowns, one from Paris being a mellow creation of brown and yellow; another, blue and yellow, with the yellow accentuated by pipings; and still another, a dramatic ensemble in black and gold.

In these gowns the drapery is not over-full, but is graceful and long. One has the skirt lifted above the hipline and finished with a shirred heading in lieu of a girde. Some sautins of high luster and fine quality are printed in floral and conventional patterns and are promised a share of favor for afternoon and informal evening wear. Other fabrics that are expected to be worn for afternoon are the heavier crepes, canton, sat and tulle.

These latest styles in separate gowns and ensembles are especially interesting for the many novel ways in which they accomplish the draped lines and the princess effects with chic flaring fullness. A favorite expedient is the use of a separate panel gathered to the foundation skirt—sometimes two or three—covering the sides and back of the gown, the opening being in front. Each of these panels is cut on the bias and rounded, pointed or scalloped at the bottom to fall in folds so as to give the necessary flare, freedom and grace in the ensemble. The low dipping line at the back is still fashionable, but the low side drapery with back or front, or both, shorter is newer and has the endorsement of Paris modistes.

Flower Trimmings Are Now Bunched on Backs

After a few months of banishment from dressmakers' minds, artificial flowers are reinstated in favor, but only providing they are used in bunches and placed in the back or directly on skirts.

When summer styles with the popularity of flower-printed materials have passed, flower garlands may make a big comeback as the favored trimmings of evening frocks. Several important Paris style authorities are specializing in the garlanded dresses, utilizing tulle, tulle and satins as the background for vari-colored flowers.

Butterflies and shoulder flowers have almost ceased to figure in Paris fashions, except as sports accessories when they are made of leather, tweed or short-haired fur.

The favorite flowers for the new garlands are gardenias, mixed field flowers and chifon carnations.

Tulle Freshens Frocks; Liked by French Girls

French debutantes have adopted the mode of a huge pompon of tulle, called a "cabbage," to freshen up their dance frocks.

Some of the rosettes are so large that they reach the top of the ear, forming an aura of soft color. Preferences are for matching colors with pastel shades, flesh or coral pink with black, and bright colors with white. Sometimes there are colored shoes to match the tulle rosette.

Pull-Overs Are Handy When Cool Snap Comes

The pull-overs are so handy and so useful when weather changes occur that it will take a lot to shake their position in fashion. This is especially true at present because of their attractive designs. Many of them have a background of natural colored wool with insets and jacquard designs in silk or silk and wool weaves. Blue and gray are a color combination often seen.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

SETS AND MATCHING ACCESSORIES ARE IN THE SPIRIT OF THE TIMES

New York—The effect, beneficial or otherwise, of long skirts on ho-ho-fashions is not an unimportant consideration. As one expert put it, the less stocking is exposed, the more elaborate it may be—a great length of limb requires plain hose of excellent quality. With the advent of long skirts, and the possibilities of stockings being shrouded in mystery, one may reasonably expect something different. The same may be said of shoes for they, even more than stockings are definitely linked with the color and line of the costume. Milliners have been quick to bend their brains to the passing winds of fashion.

An Embroidered Wool Tweed Having the Appearance of Suede Is Used for This Set. The Hat Follows the Beret Lines With the Embroidered Motif Done in Three-Tone Effect Producing a Coronet Effect at the Front. The Entire Hat Is Hand Stitched. The Purse Is of the Envelope Type and the Shoe Follows the Oxford Lines With Laced Section and Heel of Matching Kid.

Access particularly omitting them in the front so that by adding a longer back brim she may simulate the back dip which has scored so heavily in dressers. Hats have also widened at the side and reveal an expanse of brow that is sometimes softened by a tiny circular veil.

Hunters green is very new and smart, particularly when combined with rich fur like mink or sable. Sketched Philippe et Gaston's mink and broadcloth green coat.

In the general ferment the appearance of corsets and long skirts has occasioned, one hears less of the importance of the ensemble. It is none the less a vital factor in being well dressed. There is still a kinship between shoes and purses, and for that matter between scarfs and hats. As befitting the moment when the sartorial world peeks back into the Victorian era, things are once more being appreciated in "sets." This is as true of costume jewelry as it is of other accessories. No record of approved accessories would be complete without mention of belts. So many costumes are belted that one wonders why there is so much talk of the princess silhouette, until one realizes that in fashions as in other events, news makes the front page. The princess silhouette is news.

BARONESS VON WASHINGTON NOW IN EIGHTY-FIFTH YEAR

Munich (AP).—Baroness Marie von Washington, the widow of the late Baron Karl Theodor von Washington—lieutenant colonel and chamberlain to the former King Ludwig II of Bavaria—recently celebrated her 85th anniversary at Notzing, upper Bavaria. James Washington, the head of the Bavarian family of von Washington, migrated from England to Germany the latter part of the eighteenth century and became knighted in Bavaria in 1839.

He acquired an estate at Notzing, married the Baroness Lochner von Huetttenbach and quickly rose to military and court distinction. His third son was Baron Karl Theodor.

CHICAGO SOCIETY GIRL "WEDS" POEM AND DANCE.

Chicago (AP).—Tall, lithe and pretty, Martha Wickwire, Chicago society girl, is beginning an artistic career of "poem dancing."

The poem is read and the dancer interprets it. She moves to its rhythm, expressing its emotion in pantomime. So explains her reader, Elsa Durand Mower, who originated the idea. It is not ballet technique, it is said, but rather a marriage of verse and terpsichore, the poem taking the place of music.

One of Miss Wickwire's most popular pantomimes is "Some Quatrains from the Rubaiyat."

Now women are better managers

THE work of making and maintaining a home is done better by the housewife of today than by her mother or her grandmother.

She makes her money go farther and has more to show for it.

She spends less time in marketing and less in the kitchen, yet the meals she serves are more appetizing, more wholesome, better balanced.

Her house is clean and orderly, a pleasant place to live in, but at the same time she gets along with less help.

She dresses herself and her children with taste, and does it on a smaller proportion of her funds.

It is modern advertising that has shown her how to make her home more attractive, how to save herself time and labor, and above all how to buy economically.

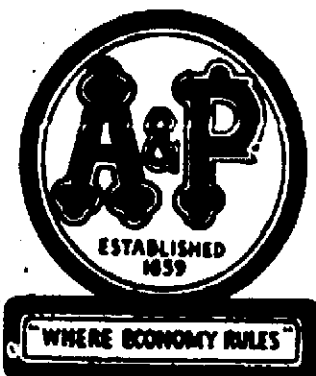

The best housekeepers are those who follow the advertisements day after day and do their buying accordingly.

When you read the advertising columns you are taking a daily course in Domestic Science.

About the Folks

John Sullivan of 132 Chambers street is spending a ten-day vacation with his son at Coldwater, Mich.

Seth Jecelton, former night laborer and for a number of years a deputy sheriff with headquarters at the court house this city, is seriously ill at his home on Maiden Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Frank Regendahl of 50 Johnston avenue who have been visiting for a few days, their son, A. Loyd Regendahl, who is holding a responsible position with the General Electric Company at Philadelphia, have returned home.

F. Jecelton, Inspector, and Charles W. Poppe, detective, of the New York police department are the guests of John Doolin, Jr., of 191 Hasbrouck avenue. Messrs. Jecelton, Poppe and Doolin will visit the police camp near Tannersville Tuesday.

On Trial for Murder of Wife.

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 16 (P).—Earle F. Peacock, who confessed killing his 29-year-old wife and setting fire to the body went on trial today for the murder. The charred body of Dorothy Peacock was found along a lonely road near Greenburg, N. Y., on April 27. Peacock was arrested and police said confessed strangling his wife six days earlier, then setting her body afire to hide her identity. Sidney A. Sme, defense counsel, has indicated he will seek to prove that the 21-year-old radio mechanic killed in self defense.

Temporary Change of Bus Route.

The uptown portion of the Strand-North Front street bus route has been changed because a trench dug by the city water department has made Green street impassable. Instead of going from Maiden Lane to Green street, the busses are covering the route taken when they first replaced the old Colonial trolleys, namely, Maiden Lane to Wall street, Wall to Main street and Main to Clinton avenue. St. Joseph's Church corner is being used as the uptown terminal.

A Political Murder.

Sofia, Sept. 16 (P).—Atanasi Spasich, a photographer and a Jugoslav citizen, was killed in the street here last night by three persons who, it was stated, were supposed to have acted on instructions of the Macedonian Independence Committee. Spasich formerly was active politically.

Expressed

An Irishman entered his local post office and told the young woman behind the counter that he wanted to forward an express letter.

He placed the usual fee on the counter, but was informed that an additional sixpence would be required as the addressee lived some considerable distance outside the delivery area.

The Irishman seemed rather puzzled at this request, but after a moment's hesitation, ventured:

"Well, you let the letter go as it is. I don't want to pay the extra sixpence, but O'll write to them and tell them to go to the office and collect it."

Radium Prevents Fires

One of the hazards of the rubber factory is that as the sheets pass over rollers for compression, electric sparks are often given off and at the same time the air is filled with inflammable vapors. This combination is a dangerous one and often causes a conflagration. In a foreign factory it has been discovered that this menace is removed by the presence of a tiny capsule of radium in the presence of the rolling machinery. It is explained that the radium has some action on the air in its vicinity which enables electricity to pass slowly and harmlessly from the rollers and thus saves the factory from destruction.

Homey Homey Pet

On the island of Santo Domingo there is to be encountered a great variety of insects which, in one form or another, are active during the 24 hours of the day. The houses are kept reasonably free from these pests through the activities of the "cock" which makes its home in the houses, but refuses to share hospitality with any form of insect life. The cock is a terrible looking lizard which is perfectly harmless and it moves slowly about the house and gathers up insects of all kinds. It is slow until its eyes light on its prey and then it is quick enough to make a bull's shot and rarely misses.

Russian "Break Fast"

The Russian fasts religiously when his religious calls for it, but immediately after the fasting period he plunges into an orgy of food, elaborate preparations are made in advance for the break and tables are groaning under the weight of whole hams, ducks, turkeys, geese, chickens, sausages, walnut cakes, cathedrals made of sour cream, tall kullich cakes, and cakes, pyramids, bottles of kvass and champagne. The gathering surrounds this array of temptations and struggle unably to conquer it entirely.

Early Shipbuilding

The first vessel ever built on the waters of the West was the brig Dean. She was launched at the present site of Allegheny City, near Pittsburgh, in 1805.

ABOUT MISS SHOEBILL

"WELL, my name is Miss Shoebill. It doesn't mean that I send bills for shoes or that I'm telling anyone named Bill to 'shoo' away. Nor does it mean that my bill looks just exactly like a shoe, though it does look rather strange. I will admit."

"Yes, I'm curious looking. I have gray feathers and my home used to be in Egypt."

"I'm a lovely looking thing in my own opinion but few others agree with me."

"They think I'm about as much of a sight as a creature can be and they don't mean a handsome sight."

"I'm a large bird—a member of the stork family—and I find the looks of people just as strange as they find mine."

"In any event you will be safer."

Why We Do What We Do

By M. K. THOMSON, Ph. D.

WHY WE INHERIT OUR POLITICS

A GOOD deal of the ammunition in presidential campaigns misses fire because the majority of voters are not open to conviction in politics. They vote their party ticket. They inherit their party and vote as their fathers voted before them.

We inherit our politics along with our religion, and blue eyes or brown, as the case may be.

Before we are old enough to know much about politics we cast our ballot. And in lieu of knowledge we follow example, the example of those who have the greatest prestige with us, those we know and trust. These are our elders in the same household.

Thus before we realize it we have completely identified ourselves with a certain party and stick to it from a sense of loyalty if nothing more.

Political prejudice is no different from any other kind. It can be broken down or supplanted only by a stronger prejudice of opposite nature.

A man's political views are not altogether a matter of family training, pride and prejudice. The political parties encourage this sort of blind loyalty by giving the preference to those who are "died in the wool." In the national conventions certain men boast that they never voted any other ticket for generations and sought special favors on the grounds of party loyalty. Candidates are accepted or rejected on the strength of their allegiance.

Party success depends upon party loyalty, and if a man is going to get any recognition from his party he must stick to the ship, sink or swim.

We inherit our politics through the natural process of family traditions as part of the furniture of the old homestead and the family coat of arms. In addition to the party, system demands the type of loyalty that is calculated to perpetuate the party, of passing it on from father to son.

Orchestra Defied

An orchestra is described as a band of performers on various instruments, including especially those of the violin class, adapted for rendering the larger kinds of concerted music as symphonies, overtures, etc., and commonly distinguished from the military or street band of players on wind instruments.

The six-pointed star has been used as a symbol from early times. It is a hexagram composed of two equilateral triangles. As such, it was used as a symbol of Judaism and is known as the Magen David, or Shield of David.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 16 (P).—The stock market began the new week today with the seriousness which characterized trading last week still in evidence at times, but with the list generally displaying a firmer undertone. Operators for the advance were able to move a fairly large assortment of utilities, rails and specialties substantially higher.

The credit outlook was regarded as rather troublesome. Call money renewed a little firmer at 7 1/2 per cent and was in limited supply, at that figure. Bankers generally predicted firm money during the next few days, as the full effect of the quarterly income tax payments and the treasury refinancing are left.

General American Tank, Weston Instrument, Louisville and Nashville, Columbia Gas, Bangor and Aroostook, Royal Dutch and Timken Roller Bearing were other stocks reaching new high ground. Standard Oil of New Jersey rose a couple of points in heavy buying, and Radio, American Can, New York Central, Woolworth, DuPont, Delaware and Hudson, and Columbia Carbon were among issues in good demand.

American Machine and Foundry and Auburn Auto dropped about 8 points, and United Aircraft, Allied Chemical, Brooklyn Union Gas and United States Freight lost 3 to 4 points.

WHY WE INHERIT OUR POLITICS

A GOOD deal of the ammunition in presidential campaigns misses fire because the majority of voters are not open to conviction in politics. They vote their party ticket. They inherit their party and vote as their fathers voted before them.

We inherit our politics along with our religion, and blue eyes or brown, as the case may be.

Before we are old enough to know much about politics we cast our ballot. And in lieu of knowledge we follow example, the example of those who have the greatest prestige with us, those we know and trust. These are our elders in the same household.

Thus before we realize it we have completely identified ourselves with a certain party and stick to it from a sense of loyalty if nothing more.

Political prejudice is no different from any other kind. It can be broken down or supplanted only by a stronger prejudice of opposite nature.

A man's political views are not altogether a matter of family training, pride and prejudice. The political parties encourage this sort of blind loyalty by giving the preference to those who are "died in the wool." In the national conventions certain men boast that they never voted any other ticket for generations and sought special favors on the grounds of party loyalty. Candidates are accepted or rejected on the strength of their allegiance.

Party success depends upon party loyalty, and if a man is going to get any recognition from his party he must stick to the ship, sink or swim.

We inherit our politics through the natural process of family traditions as part of the furniture of the old homestead and the family coat of arms. In addition to the party, system demands the type of loyalty that is calculated to perpetuate the party, of passing it on from father to son.

Orchestra Defied

An orchestra is described as a band of performers on various instruments, including especially those of the violin class, adapted for rendering the larger kinds of concerted music as symphonies, overtures, etc., and commonly distinguished from the military or street band of players on wind instruments.

The Factor Says

No man ever awakens in the same town in which he went to bed the night before. . . . Nothing can be "the whole gospel" if it may be seen growing on the outside of it as luxuriantly as within it.—John Andrew Holmes.

Shield of David

The six-pointed star has been used as a symbol from early times. It is a hexagram composed of two equilateral triangles. As such, it was used as a symbol of Judaism and is known as the Magen David, or Shield of David.

Big Porcelain Memorial Dedicated in Germany

Meissen, Germany.—The world's greatest porcelain monument, which has taken eight years to complete, has just been dedicated in the seven hundred-year-old Nicolaus church in this city, where white porcelain was invented. The walls of the church are covered with 1,800 porcelain plates of the World War. These plates are grouped around 30 over-life-sized porcelain figures of mourning mothers and eight giant porcelain figures holding the eternal death watch. Between altar and nave there is a large porcelain arch. In a special shrine, made also of porcelain, a golden book with records of the dead soldiers is kept.

Many Fires but Loss Was Small

Forest Fire Danger During Drought
Most Serious Since 1908—Losses Less Than $5,000.

Albany, Sept. 16.—The rains ended the record-breaking drought relieved the most serious forest fire situation New York state has experienced since 1908 when over 250,000 acres of forests were burned with a loss of nearly $1,000,000.

This year's forest fire loss during the period of the drought has been less than $5,000 although there were over 200 fires. In addition it has cost the state approximately $10,000 to extinguish the fires.

Following the record breaking drought of July, a severe fire danger developed through the entire wooded area of this state, increasing daily in seriousness from late July. The eastern Adirondack slopes suffered most severely from this prolonged drought although there was no section of the Adirondacks that escaped. The fire hazard in the Catskills was no longer unusual. A serious fire danger existed throughout the entire wooded area of the state beginning early in August and increasing daily in intensity, under the influence of continued low humidities and high winds. The seriousness of the drought and attendant travel, the height of the tourist season coinciding with the peak of the fire hazard on Labor Day. With tens of thousands of people unfamiliar with the danger of fires scattered through the forests, it was inevitable that many fires would be started. This danger was recognized by all agencies interested in the protection of the woods, and preparations were made for combating what would probably be the most serious fires of recent years in this state. The forest fire suppression organization of the Conservation Department distributed supplies of all equipment, and prepared power pumps for emergency use.

The fires in numbers were comparable to those of 1908 for a similar period. Over 225 forest fires were reported to the Conservation Department since August 1. Nearly 100 of these were in the Adirondack and Catskill mountains, the balance being scattered in the forested areas outside, the greater number having occurred in Suffolk county, Long Island. These fires were kept to a small aggregate area. The largest fire during this period was 500 acres of brush in Suffolk county caused by a careless smoker. A 400-acre fire was the next largest and was confined to brush and grass land in Columbia county. The third in size was 250 acres of brush, which burned in the vicinity of Cameron, 100 acres of waste land were burned in Sullivan county before the fire was under control. In the Catskills and Adirondacks the record was even better, the largest being one of 60 acres of brush on top of Mt. Marcy mountain near Warrensburg. The next largest was 50 acres of brush land in the vicinity of Black Brook, Clinton county, and the third largest and the fire resulting in the greatest damage was confined to 20 acres of hard and soft wood slash in eastern St. Lawrence county. About 250 cords of pulp wood were destroyed in this fire. All other fires were confined to a small area.

Because of the scarcity of water, extensive use was made of power pumps for long distance pumping. Tank trucks were also pressed into service. The experience of the Conservation Department in using a truck equipped with a 600 gallon water tank and a high pressure pump capable of forcing water at 1,000 pounds pressure through one mile of hose has shown the necessity of securing equipment of this sort for suppressing ground fires in inaccessible regions of this state.

Vare Foes Push Drama Of Empty Seat To End

By L. A. BROPHY
(AP Feature Service Writer.)
Washington (P).—The United States Senate's Enoch Arden drama now moves to a climax.
Like the storied husband who was on the outside looking in, William S. Vare of Pennsylvania for two years figuratively has had his face pressed to the Senate window.

The official records state that the junior Senator from Pennsylvania is Vare.

But for more than two years forces of dissension have swirled around his claims and in the meantime there has been a vacant chair at the senatorial preside.

As in the case of Frank L. Smith of Illinois, the charges against Vare rest on the premise that too much money was spent in his primary campaign. The backwash of the controversy definitely swept Smith out of the Senate.

Now the Vare issue apparently is on the way to final settlement, with Senator George Norris of Nebraska responsible for a resolution which would settle one phase of the double-barreled action against the Pennsylvanian.

Vare's right to his seat was suspended in December, 1927, after the Senate adopted a preliminary report.

AMSTERDAM FURNISHES GRANDMOTHER ON ORDER.

AMSTERDAM (P).—The fact that a grandy was supplied on demand by the municipality would suggest that the city government not only has abundant time on its hands but is also exceedingly kind hearted.

Before the city clerk appeared a young widow with her boy of four and complained that she did not know where to leave the youngster during the hours she was employed at the factory.

He was such a sensitive child, she explained, and afraid of most strangers. "Yes, if my mother were still alive," the widow sighed, "I should not need to worry."

"Oh, if you require a grandmother," the clerk suggested, "we can furnish you one."

Seeing the woman's incredulous stare, the clerk continued: "No need to look skeptical. There are many old ladies who long for a grandchild and who for want of one of their own would be only too glad to look after a strange one. If you have a spare bed for the substitute grandmother we shall send you the matter can be straightened out."

The widow agreed and within the week the deputy grandma moved in joyfully, hailed by her adopted grandchild and his mother.

Hercules Wins Industrial League Championship

Norm Niles, second baseman of the Hercules Powder Company team, played the big role of "a friend in need" to his team at the Athletic Field Saturday afternoon, when he used his bat to great advantage at opportune times and edged the Hercules ahead of the Gasco, 9-5, winning for them the championship of the Industrial League.

Things looked bad for Hercules in the early stages, the Gasco getting a five-run hold on the contest in the opening frame. The powder makers were held scoreless until the fourth inning, when Niles crashed out—a healthy three-bagger. His clout cleared the bags loaded with Hercules. With the score 3 all in the tenth, Niles again came to his team's rescue with a double that scored Ken Best and won the much coveted Industrial League pennant for the Hercules.

The 10-inning battle, one of the slowest but probably the most interesting ever played on the Athletic Field, brought out a large gathering of fans and closed in an appropriate way the most successful season ever had by the Industrial League.

Walt Black, the Gasco moundman, had trouble in getting the pill over and worked himself to the limit. Foul tips by the Hercules made him throw enough balls for several games. He let the powder makers in on seven free passes and hit two men. Walt, however, struck out 13 Hercules.

Ken Best, who got discouraging support in the first inning when his teammates committed five errors and allowed the Gascones as many runs, never lost courage although things looked dark for him in the early stages of the game. He allowed but five hits after the first frame, three of them being registered in the sixth, the inning that ended the Gasco's scoring.

Pan-Ams Win From All-Stars

The Kingston All-Stars went down to defeat, 6-5, at the Sageries road diamond Sunday afternoon, when the Brown brothers, "Fritz" and "Lutz," who made a special trip here from Schenectady to play with the Pan-Ams, pulled a fast one in the ninth inning with the tally 5-5.

"Fritz", the first Pan-Am to face Jimmy Volker in the ninth, sped the pill along the second base territory and the liner being too hot for Tommy Devitt to nab, Brown reached first. Hank Cragan, who pitched a very good game for the oilmen, allowing his former teammates, the All-Stars, but six hits, laid down a bunt that permitted "Fritz" to make second. Then "Lutz" Brown took his turn with the willow and boosted the horsehide to right field. The blow allowed "Fritz" to make home with the winning run.

Table for Bedridden.

For the invalid who must remain in bed, a card table is of great help.

Two legs of the table can be folded under so one side of the table will rest on the bed, and the other on the two legs on the floor.

Tagging Major League Bases

By WILLIAM J. CHAPMAN.

(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

The major leagues dipped into the minors yesterday for an idea to bolster box offices weakened by the extremely low season of both pennant races in mid-September. Games scheduled for later dates at Boston, Cincinnati and St. Louis were advanced to manufacture artificial double-headers as fan bait. Some 15,000 Cardinal clients contributed cash at the turnstiles to see the Giants perform twice at St. Louis, but there is no report of any riots before the gates of Redland Field or Braves' Field, Sunday home of the Red Sox.

The Cubs filled Wrigley Field on a one-game basis, and delighted their 40,000 customers with a victory over Brooklyn by 13 to 4. The result placed the Bruins within one victory of the tag, and dropped the Robins to sixth place below the idle Phillies. Charlie Root held the Brooklynese safe at all stages as the Cubs sailed. Buck Newsome, Doug McWeeny, John Morrison and Win Ballou, Rogers Hornsby picked up his thirty-seventh homer and one other hit.

The Cubs have three chances today to nail up their flag, and doubtless will make good on one of them—their own game against Brooklyn, and the two the Pirates must play against the hard-hitting Phillies. Bill Walker pitched masterful ball against the Cardinals in the opener to win by a 4 to 0 on four runs presented to him by his support in the very first inning, but Larry Beaton failed in the nightcap, 6 to 4. The Cards, aided by Andy High's homer, scored four in the first round of the second game and added two more in the third, just enough to weather an eight-inning rush which netted the Giants four markers. Jim Lindsey, a Houston recruit, was on the mound for the Cards, and stuck to his guns through the Giant rally.

Any designs the Braves may have had on seventh place were quietly yesterday when the Reds won both halves of the Cincinnati bargain by 16 to 1 and 4 to 3. This double triumph gave the men of Hendricks a margin of ten games in seventh place, and a fighting chance to overhaul either the Robins or the Phillies, if not both.

The Pirates and the Phillies were idle. Two games are on tap at Forbes Field today.

At the Yankee Stadium, where a natural double-header was played due to a postponement when Cleveland last visited New York, a surprising crowd of 40,000 turned out to see the fallen Huguenots divide two with the Indians. The Veterans Tom Zachary just shaded Ken Holloway to win the opener by 1 to 0, recording his eleventh victory to a record which shows no defeats. Luke Sewell's wild throw to catch Ruth nap off first in the third proved fatal as Dickey followed with a single.

The Indians wallowed Waite Hoyt and Fred Holman impartially in the second game, piling up fourteen hits to win by 10 to 0. Joe Hauser hit a homer in the third with two mates aboard. Cleveland remained two games ahead of the idle Browns in the battle for third place, but, of course, failed to improve its slight chance of overtaking the Yankees. Detroit increased its margin over Washington to two and one-half games by winning the first half of a double-header, 16 to 2, and then fought the Senators to a 3 to 3 tie in the eight-inning nightcap, called because of darkness. As this was not an artificial double-header, two games will be played today.

The Red Sox shaded Chicago by 5 to 4 in the first game, but the visitors won the second by 3 to 2.

310 WALL ST., KINGSTON, N. Y.
"The House of Lucky Engagement and Wedding Rings."Mr. Alexander's
35th Anniversary

The offices of the Prudential Insurance Company at 295 Wall street on Saturday morning were the scene of a gathering of the agents and assistant superintendents of the Kingston District in honor and commemoration of the thirty-fifth Prudential anniversary of the superintendent, William A. Alexander, who for the past thirty-five years has served the company, working up from an agency and other positions to superintendent, which latter position he has held for many years. The rooms were decorated with American flags and bunting and upon the blackboard, which shows the increase of business from week to week, was recorded the largest amount of business ever secured in one week in the history of the Kingston office—thousands of dollars of new insurance written in this city and detached offices of the Kingston District, which comprises Saugerties, Catskill, Poughkeepsie and Delhi offices. Also upon the board were inscribed the dates 1894-1929, with the letters P. O. G. The latter is a monogram of the great Prudential, meaning Prudential Old Guard, which consists of employees of the company who have served consecutive years. The local office was referred to as having more P. O. G. men than any other district of its size anywhere, there being several men who have served twenty, twenty-five, thirty and thirty-five continuous years.

The business meeting was opened at 11 o'clock by Superintendent Alexander and Division Manager M. C. Johnson, of Division O, at Newark, N. J., acted as chairman. At this time Miss Lillian Niese, who has been cashier for many years, in behalf of the four other office clerks, presented Mr. Alexander with a bouquet of beautiful red roses. The first speaker was Assistant Secretary George W. Williams, of the home office, who presented Mr. Alexander on behalf of the company, with a gold diamond pocket watch and certificate of Class G. Prudential Old Guard, and congratulated him upon his long and faithful service and said it was a red-letter day in his life time. Other speakers who made brief remarks were Superintendent Van Wageningen of Poughkeepsie, who started as an agent in this city, former Kingston Superintendent Peter Daubier, now of New Rochelle, N. Y., Superintendent Shurtz of Newburgh, also a former Kingstonian, Assistant Superintendents E. Wilberg, C. D. Myers, B. Silverman, D. N. Truener, T. O'Neill, R. Travis, Mr. Dewey, Mr. Addix and others.

After the business meeting the representatives to the number of about seventy-five went to the Governor Clinton Hotel, where through the generosity of Mr. Alexander, staff and visitors were tendered a very fine dinner in one of the private dining rooms of the hotel. At this time the superintendent was given a large basket of thirty-five fine American Beauty roses, a gift from the agents of the local office. Before dinner a group picture was taken in the rear of the hotel grounds. During the serving of the dinner, Paul Zucca led the diners in popular community songs.

Mr. Alexander has been a resident of this city for nearly four years, coming from Brooklyn, and built a residence on North Manor avenue. He received many congratulations and well wishes from his fellow associates for many more years of service and good health.

Popular Young Ashokan
Girl Gains New Health
Through Use Of Nu-Erb

Famous Medicine Is Highly Endorsed For Producing Splendid Results In Disorders Of Stomach And Liver.

Kingston men and women daily continue to call on the Nu-Erb man at McBride Drug Store, telling of the splendid results that are to be obtained through using this modern herbal medicine and during the year that Nu-Erb has been known in Kingston, thousands of men and women in this vicinity have given signed statements, publicly endorsing it. For example, here is the recent story that was told by Miss Lulu Gollman, Box 333, Ashokan, N. Y.

MISS LULU GOLLMAN.

"Nu-Erb has helped me in so many ways, that I do not hesitate to recommend it," said Miss Gollman. "Before taking this medicine I suffered continually from weakened kidneys, a sluggish liver and a disordered stomach. I was subject to severe dizzy spells, floating spots before my eyes and my nerves were so on edge, that I couldn't even sleep at night."

"I had used other medicines, but it remained for Nu-Erb to actually help these troubles and since using this medicine for a few weeks, my entire health has improved and the distressing troubles of my stomach, kidney and liver have all been relieved. I can highly endorse this medicine to anyone."

Nu-Erb is the ideal system tonic and regulator. It corrects digestive disorders, strengthens weak kidneys, quiets the nerves, rouses a lasy liver to full action, relieves constipation and puts a stop to headaches, dizziness, biliousness, rheumatism and neuritis.

McBride Drug Store, 512 Wall St., is headquarters in Kingston for Dr. French's Nu-Erb. Go to the Nu-Erb man now making his headquarters there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.
